

Sterling Charter

Travel on Your Schedule, Your Timetable

There are a multitude of reasons why private aircraft charter can be your best travel solution. Perhaps you make short notice business trips to remote locations, or need to transport your staff on a timetable that efficiently fits your company's needs. Perhaps you'll be entertaining a client, or simply getting away for a much-anticipated family vacation.

Private aircraft charter enables you to do all this and more, 24/7, without being tied to commercial airline schedules.

We at Sterling Aviation take great pride in the quality and availability of our charter fleet. We can quickly match your travel and budgetary requirements to the appropriate aircraft. Your trip will be conducted in a private, secure and confidential fashion. You will have peace of mind, knowing that your aircraft is impeccably maintained by our factory-trained technicians at our FAA approved repair station. And you will be served by one of our highly experienced Flight Safety trained crews.

Our Aviation Concierge welcomes your special requests for catering, ground transportation, in-flight movies, hotel reservations and any other services to make your travel with us more productive and enjoyable.

We also offer limited membership in our unique Sterling Club, which assures frequent charter customers of the lowest possible rates, including special one-way pricing, and jet card privileges anywhere in the United States and within 200 miles of the border.

Whether for occasional business travel, personal travel, or a predictable number of annual charter hours, we'd be delighted to tailor a proposal to meet your specific travel needs.

Sterling Club

For frequent charter clients (committed to annual flying of 100 hours or more) we offer limited membership in our Sterling Club. This block hour program provides full access to the Sterling fleet, special one-way pricing, and flexible flight privileges through the use of a Sterling-owned Bombardier Skyjet Card (for flights in the U.S. or within 200 miles of the border).

Members also enjoy complete concierge services including indoor heated parking and auto wash services, all at a substantial savings compared to fractional ownership programs.

Safety First

As a member of Wyvern's Wingman Alliance, Sterling Aviation is recognized worldwide as having a genuine commitment to safety. Flight and maintenance operations are monitored continuously and audited annually by Wyvern, the most respected name in aviation safety.

Worldwide Service

In addition to serving destinations closer to home, Sterling also offers international travel. Through our European associate, Eurofly Service s.p.a., an aircraft charter operator established in 1978, we can cross continents without sacrificing any aspect of the "Sterling Experience."

Professional Affiliations

Sterling Aviation is a member in good standing of the following professional organizations:

- NATA (National Air Transportation Association)
- NBAA (National Business Aircraft Association)
- PAMA (Professional Aircraft Maintenance Association)
- NARA (National Aircraft Resale Association)
- Wyvern Wingman

Our clients have entrusted us to impeccably maintain and safely operate one of the most complex pieces of machinery man has invented. We must always take this responsibility very seriously. There can be no compromises.
